Miles of History

Heritage Crossroads: Miles of History Formation and History

In March 2004 the Bunnell Chamber of Commerce and the Flagler County Chamber of Commerce formed a Historic Preservation Committee. The Committee was formed in order to apply for a Scenic/Heritage Highway Designation for the group of roadways that make up the proposed Heritage Crossroads: Miles of History Heritage Highway. From this initial effort the Corridor Management Entity (CME) was officially formed and recognized as a spin-off of the Historic Preservation Committee. Since that time, the CME has met monthly and worked very hard to make this Florida Scenic Highway designation a reality. The CME received notice of approval from the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) in 2008 as the states first heritage highway under the Scenic Highway Program. Since that time the CME has worked diligently to accomplish its goals and meet its mission.

Mission Statement

The mission of Heritage Crossroads is to highlight the historic resources of Florida's first Heritage Highway - ranging from the Florida Agricultural Museum to the Bulow Plantation Ruins - by promoting, enhancing and preserving the unique characteristics of these resources and their place in Florida's history. Through education and interpretation we will enhance the experience of visitors and the community's appreciation of the region's heritage.

Vision Statement

The CME envisions a unique opportunity for the curious and adventurous to experience the byways of a region rich in history and potential. The 92-mile loop and spur route follows the ongoing story of exploration and colonization that began 12,000 years ago and continues today. The Heritage Crossroads corridor is a key component of the "Southern Passages: the Atlantic Coast," an emerging National Heritage Area (NHA) that roughly traces the original Kings Road of the 1700s that begins to the south at New Smyrna Beach, Florida with a northern limit that continues past the Georgia terminus north to Georgetown, South Carolina.

Agricultural activities such as potato and cabbage farming, timber and citrus, horse and cattle ranching co-exist with an expanding community of diverse and cosmopolitan residents in this region. The extensive water resources, both fresh and salt, provide recreational and commercial prospects for residents and visitors.

Exploration, documentation and preservation of unique archaeological and historical sites in the area are ongoing, assuring these historical treasures are a current and future part of the cultural richness of the area. The Heritage Crossroads corridor is the ribbon that ties together these unique attributes.

These historically significant components will be brought together as part of the Heritage Crossroads corridor to visually enhance the human spirit with the unique stories and connections with nature. The crossroads will wed the past with the present and serve as an example for understanding and appreciation for the heritage of the area through community pride and a sense of place. The Heritage Crossroads Vision is to protect and promote the historical resources of the region that encompasses portions of Flagler, St. Johns and Volusia Counties within the 98-mile corridor through shared community goals and objectives.

Bulow Plantation Ruins Historic State Park

Goals

1. Resource Protection – Protect, preserve, maintain and enhance the historic, natural and scenic resources of the corridor.
2. Provide safe access to our historic, scenic and recreational resources that will promote their use while preserving their beauty for future generations.
3. Promote responsible regional commercial and residential development and tourism by partnering with local governments, individuals and community organizations.
4. Education – Increase awareness of our unique regional history and appreciation for our rich natural environment through the development and presentation of our corridor story to residents and tourists alike.
5. Economic Development and Tourism – Aesthetically enhance, improve and beautify the Heritage Crossroads corridor.

Get involved and help preserve Flagler County's heritage!
